Re: Adding Subs & Players moving to a different team within their Div.

- No Div 1 Player can play or sub for a Div 3 team or lower.
- You are not a full time player for a team until you have played 9 games in 8ball, and 18 games in 9Ball
 - Hence, you can move to another team within your division until that occurs
 - You must notify a league official 24 hours before you begin to play for another team
 - Once you have established a full time status on a team [9/18 games played,] you must have the captain of the team you're leaving indicate in writing, or verbally to a league official that they are releasing you.
 - You must notify a league official 24 hours before you begin to play for another team
 - The player being released must wait 2 league weeks before they can join another team in that division, or upon League approval.
 - You do not have to wait two weeks, or be officially released from a team if you are moving to another team/night of play.
- When adding a sub to your team, both 8ball and 9ball
 - You must have approval from a league official 24 hours before they can play.
 - Exceptions to this rule are as follows (less than 24 hours' notice)
 - Both captains agree that the new sub can play
 - See player averages on how to handicap
 - A league official has been made aware and approves
 - Note on the scoresheet that you have a new player/sub
- Note: No new player/subs can be added to a team within the *first & last 3 weeks of play. This includes both 1st half and 2nd half. Also during any playoff matches.
 - Exceptions are only allowed at the discretion of you league officials
 - Emergency situations
 - Both captains agree to proceed with the match
